

Nyawar Mapieny Gathoul, 17, takes care of her six-month-old son, Zoal Mapiny, as well as her four brothers and three sisters. They get by because of food distributions from one of MCC's partners in South Sudan, SSUDRA. (MCC photo/Tadeo Santonino)

Nyawar Mapieny Gathoul, 17, takes care of her six-month-old son, Zoal Mapiny, as well as her four brothers and three sisters. They get by because of food distributions from one of MCC's partners in South Sudan, SSUDRA. (MCC photo/Tadeo Santonino)

YOUR DONATIONS WILL BE MATCHED UNTIL JULY 17

YOUR DONATIONS WILL BE MATCHED UNTIL JULY 17

RESPONDING TO THE HUNGER CRISIS

You can provide food for families on the brink of starvation

You may have heard a hunger crisis is looming. Families in places like South Sudan are on the brink of starvation if they don't get urgent, life-saving assistance. MCC is responding and we need your help. The Government of Canada has just announced matching funds, so donations from individual Canadians will be matched, up to $5 million, until July 17.

mcccanada.ca/hunger-crisis

DONATE TODAY

RESPONDING TO THE HUNGER CRISIS

You can provide food for families on the brink of starvation

You may have heard a hunger crisis is looming. Families in places like South Sudan are on the brink of starvation if they don't get urgent, life-saving assistance. MCC is responding and we need your help. The Government of Canada has just announced matching funds, so donations from individual Canadians will be matched, up to $5 million, until July 17.

mcccanada.ca/hunger-crisis

DONATE TODAY

