Getting Started

Before you set off to complete your challenge, there are a few things you need to do.

Decide your who, what, when, where and how.

Who will you be doing the challenge with? “Team work makes the dream work”. Consider gathering a team to help you build more support, enhance the fun, and perhaps add some competition?

Want to GO! solo? No problem! Don't fret. There is no limit to how you can make a difference!

What will your challenge be? Be creative! Consider what will encourage others to support your tangible efforts.

When will you complete your challenge? Though the challenge begins June 15, 2020, you are free to choose the start and duration of your challenge. A shorter end date is always helpful to keep you on track, encourage donations, and enhance the challenge factor.

Where will you be doing your challenge? Please follow current social distancing restrictions set by the government and public health and safety authorities!

How will you be raising donations and reaching out for support? Create your online Giving Registry to make it easy for anyone to support you. For offline donations and cash or cheque donations, use the printable sponsorship form to help you track your donations, and so we can send tax receipts for donations of $20 or more.

How will you reach out for donations? Make a list of everyone you would like to reach out to for donation requests. Consider whether you will ask for donations in person (if permitted by social distancing restrictions call, email, text etc. Direct contact (as oppose to mass outreach or sharing publicly on social media is the best form of obtaining donations. Don't be afraid to ask for specific donation amounts, but consider who you are reaching out to and their abilities to support you.

Setting up your Giving Registry

When setting up your giving registry, remember to include information on why you are doing the challenge and what donations will support. Be sure to add something personal about yourself and why supporting vulnerable people through MCC is meaningful to you. This guide includes impact stories for your social media posts that explain the impact donations will make. Feel free to use one of these stories in your giving registry description to help you demonstrate the impact your supporters will be making alongside you.

If you are not setting up an online giving registry, please email justinarmitage@mcco.ca to register by email so we know that you are participating in the challenge!

Fundraising Tips

Below are five simple tips to help you raise donations and reach your goal!

1. Set a timeframe: Pick a start and end date for when you want to complete your challenge and reach your goal.

Having a date for when you want to reach your goal will help encourage prompt donations, as it creates a sense of urgency from your supporters. It will also help motivate you in your challenge and increase your drive! Be sure to communicate your timeframe when sharing about your giving registry.

Shorter timeframes are more ideal than long ones. A good timeframe to complete your challenge is 7 to 14 days*

Feel free to challenge yourself to an even shorter date if you believe you can get the support.*

2. Reach out to your close connections first!

Ask those closest to you to donate to your challenge first before sharing your giving registry publicly, reaching out to neighbours, community groups, or local businesses you support. Demonstrating progress in your fundraising efforts encourages more support from your broader network!

3. Get personal: Share honestly why you are doing the GO! 100 challenge.

- Do you or your family have a past historical connection to receiving support, volunteering, or working with MCC? Share about that experience and how it has made an impact in your life.
- Maybe you're an avid hiker or bike rider and this is an opportunity to do something you love and help someone in need who does not have the ability to help themselves.
- Perhaps you have thought of doing a particular challenge but never got around to doing it until now, and now you can also make a difference!

Whatever it is, share your personal connection to let people know your 'why'. Do this through your giving registry, social media, and direct contact.

4. Use visuals: Share videos and photos of you or your team doing the challenge or talking about it!

Use the additional social media photo posts we have created for you to help you share about the kind of impact you and donors will make by donating to your giving registry or participating in the challenge. Use them in emails too if asking for donations privately.

5. Thank your supporters: Thank everyone who donates privately and publicly!

Use the digital Thank You images we've provided for you to help you thank your supporters or reach out to them by phone to express your appreciation.
